Campbelltown Public School 1486

School background 2018–2020

School vision statement

Campbelltown Public School will continue to promote an inclusive culture, respecting the diversity of others and valuing the contributions of our community. Our collaborative, progressive and innovative culture will foster reflective, connected, resilient learners who are empowered and highly engaged. We encourage an active whole school community through embracing opportunities for collaboration, building strong partnerships between staff, students and parents.

School context

Campbelltown Public School, enrolment 308 students (2018), including 16 Aboriginal students and 46% of students from a non-English speaking background, is a student orientated learning environment that respects and celebrates its rich cultural diversity and values positive partnerships with parents and the wider community.

The school is supported by equity funding and is an Early Action for Success school focussed on teacher professional learning and improved student outcomes.

The dedicated staff members have a strong focus on literacy, numeracy and student welfare initiatives.

School planning process

The three key strategic directions, key improvement measures and the 5P planning for each strategic direction, was completed through consultation of staff, executive and parents. Three twilight sessions were held for staff to review data collected through an extensive self-evaluation process including: review of teaching and learning practices, surveys of parents, staff and students, and forums with focus groups of staff, students and parents. The draft plan was then presented to P&C for feedback and adjustments.
